Candid photos of the Old Rochester production of "Oklahoma!" in rehearsal. Cast is not in costume in these photos. Musical will be presented this Friday and Saturday evenings.

OKLAHOMA!

Lots of effort by a talented group of students of Old Rochester Regional High School shows great promise in the final polishing of the musical Oklahoma! which will be presented this week, Friday and Saturday, at the High School auditorium. This Rodgers and Hammerstein show, which has become an all time favorite of musical play goers, is proving a good showcase for the singing and dancing ability of local youngsters. Because of the large cast required, the voices and the dancing ability, a musical is an ambitious effort for any amateur production and for a High School show it takes a remarkable effort. From the preview I had on Sunday, I find that these students at Old Rochester have what it takes to mount a really good production. This will be a colorful show. The scenery is professional as are the costumes. The stage crew at the high school is working on a great variety of lighting to change the mood and the pace and they are doing a wonderful job. The principles in the cast have good voices with the power to match, and the chorus is full of the zing and life that the play requires. I am very impressed and expect a remarkable show which I'm sure will be remembered by the cast as the high point of their

150 Years Ago -- 1813

In the Town Records under the heading: "Sailes of the poor for 1813" we find such representative entries as:

"Dorothy Burgess to David Hathaway 18 cts.
Elu Randall to Isiah Cobb $1.
Widow Polly Parker to John Miller 63 cts.
Elias Randall to Seth Mendell, he is to keep him, find him with clothes, medison etc., for one year $12.00."

If we go back before the days of giving assistance to the poor from the taxpayers' money in the town treasure, if we go even further back before the days of a town Poor House, we come finally to the years when the poverty-stricken people of a community were taken care of by a different method. They were parcelled out to various families where in return for food, clothing, and shelter, they were supposed to do their share of the work in the house and on the farm.

To ensure that every one who needed this protection would get it, to provide some inspection to prevent flagrant mistreatment or even outright slavery, this process was organized under the legal town officials entitled Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of the Poor. Every year these three worthies held the annual "Sale of the Poor," in which each unfortunate man, woman and child was named and described, and other citizens had the opportunity for bidding for them for the period of a year.

Thus, those who had no way of adequate support received the necessities of life. The widow and small children, the orphaned girl or boy, the middle-aged widow left sole alone, the man whom inability or hard luck--or both--had brought to middle age without a possession or a cent to his name--all got at least a place to live, clothing to wear, and food to eat. Thus, also, in the days before labor-saving devices and machines, the farmer and his wife acquired relatively inexpensive hired help for the staggering array of never-ending tasks in the house and on the farm.

The system was not perfect--what system is? --for it depended upon men and women. There are hair raising tales of ill-treatment of some of the children farmed out in this way. On the other hand, many were the unfortunates who found a new home, kindly treatment, and real care when they were ill. And if they had to work long, hard hours--so did everyone else. The present writer hopes that his great-grandfather proved a kind and considerate "owner-employer" to Elias Randall.

Dear friends,
We have just read about a class of high school students who visited a funeral home in a group.
We recommend the idea. Young people should have a proper understanding of this phase of our civiliztion. Death is a part of life. It is inevitable. The work of the mortician and our funeral customs are not subjects to be avoided. They should be known and understood.
You are invited to visit our Funeral Home at any time.

in the State is corruption in the use of public funds and the lack of confidence created by this misuse. In his discussion entitled "Can We Improve the Atmosphere in Massachusetts Government?", Mr. Perry stated that we need to elect more honest people to elective office. By using men of ability and training he said that we can restore confidence in our government.

"I have been told that I am wasting my time," said Mr. Perry when he mentioned his attempts to get legislation to correct many governmental wrongs. This frustrating attitude can not help the situation. Mr. Perry said that public opinion can have a great effect. He said that in Massachusetts we (the public) are not doing our job or we would have a government of which we could be proud.

Mr. Perry was introduced by Mrs. Charles W. Smith, program chairman.

Mrs. Harold Banks presided at the business meeting. The invocation was by Mrs. Walter Clark.

Special guest was Mrs. C. Edward Ralph of Mansfield, third district director, who spoke briefly on the State Federation.

A discussion was held on whether to join the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation at Old Rochester Regional High School or to continue with the scholarships as in the past. Present were Mr. Norman Cartmill, president of the foundation, and Mr. Charles Dunn of the by-laws committee, who answered questions pertaining to the foundation. The club voted to donate $100. to the Scholarship Foundation, and the remaining $200. will be given to two Mattapoisett students, $100. for college and $100. for nursing school.

The Art Group will visit the Isabelle Stewart Gardner Museum and the Glass Flower Museum in Boston on April 2nd. Poetry will be read at the meeting of the Literature-Drama group on Tuesday, April 9th, at 10 A.M. at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith.

The music group will listen to a recording of St. Matthew's Passion by Bach at a meeting Thursday, April 11th, at 9:30 A.M.
